Good morning, Lindsay I hope your weekend was good and you enjoyed the beautiful weather on Saturday. I wanted to reach out to all the members of the arts commission and especially Lauren Spira-Savett to explain my vote from last week regarding the Riverwalk mural.

I am of the belief that our world is an amazing place, and as an artist myself I further believe that it is even more amazing with art injected into it, whether that art be visual, musical, performance or other, but I am also of the belief that it should not be paid for with taxpayer money. Additionally, we have had many conversations lately throughout the city regarding our growing homeless population and how we are going to fund the resources we are told will help solve the problem, and the combination of these are the reason for my no vote.

I can appreciate the process you all went through to select the winner, to ensure the artist was truly reflecting the city as a whole. I saw the effort that went into the presentation that was shared with us and more importantly I saw the pride on Laurens face when she spoke of this project you all worked so hard on. This email probably brings little comfort but hopefully a little understanding as to my why.

please feel free to reach out if further
